THE MENTORING PROGRAM FOR NEW MEMBERS:

You have take a BIG step in your life to become an Elk. But the initiation is just the FIRST STEP! As you may anticipate, there is much for you to learn about being an Elk. To assist you in that effort the Stevens Point Elks Lodge has established a “New Member Mentoring Program.”

The primary objectives of the Mentoring Program is to enlighten you on all the wonderful things that await you as a member of the Elks. We have found that it is not unusual for newly initiated members to be unaware of the tenets of Elkdom, what the various Lodge activities are, whether they are permitted to be involved in those Lodge activities, whether their involvement would be welcome, what their involvement would entail or how to become involved. It is your mentor's job to address these issues and to help you enjoy the fullness of being and Elk. We assure you that you will find great reward and personal satisfaction in by being INVOLVED in your Lodge and in Elkdom.

The primary objectives of the Mentoring Program are:

1. To ensure that you are informed and educated with regard to Elkdom in general and to the activities the Lodge in particular, what the activities entail, when they occur, how they are structured, who runs them, how they relate to Grand Lodge and Elkdom, and what their overall intent is.

2. To ensure that you are aware that your participation in these events is permitted, welcomed AND ENCOURAGED, what that engagement would entail, and what sort of time or effort of commitment that engagement would mean.
3. To introduce you to the Activity Chairmen to facilitate and foster your further education and potential engagement in activities for which you may be interested.

We certainly do not want you to feel coerced or intimidated, but openly given the information, the opportunity and a strong encouragement to get involved in Lodge activities that may be to your interest. You will find that you will enjoy your membership and get more out of it the more you get involved in the Lodge activities. So, pick something you enjoy, dive in and have FUN! We guarantee that your involvement will not only help others but will give you great pride and expose you to what true Elkdom is: Elks Caring and Elks Sharing.

While you are welcome to approach any member or officer with any question you may have it is the responsibility of your mentor to be your “first line” of help and information regarding anything Elkdom. If you have a question it is your mentor's responsibility to get you a full, accurate and complete answer. So do not be afraid to ask questions – that is how we learn.

SOME THINGS YOU MAY EXPECT YOUR MENTOR TO DO:

Your mentor has a serious responsibility to you and to Elkdom. Your mentor will want to discuss a number of things with you and you should feel free to ask your mentor ANY questions – whatever the nature – about your membership, the Lodge and Elkdom. You should expect to meet with your mentor frequently over the course of your first year as an Elk.

You can expect your mentor to do certain things and you should be prepared to cooperate and participate. You should expect your mentor to:

- Bring you to upcoming Lodge meetings, answer any questions

- you may have regarding the meetings and the rituals.
- Bring you to one of the next initiation ceremonies. You will understand much more about what is said and what it means when you are not the “deer in the headlights.” This is very important and you should plan to attend an initiation as soon as is convenient.
